Beauty welcomes

This flower bed and a duplicate of it across Highway 90, Bay St. Louis, near the bridge, is maintained by Phil Seeger, a volunteer for the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's Beautification Committee. The beds include red, white and pink hibiscus, some with eight-inch blooms, which Seeger has grown from seeds. It is a great floral display urging motorists to visit downtown Bay St. Louis. ## Bet alleged 'funny' money

BY SHARON K. SAUCIER
Lady Luck was not with a Californian teenager Wednesday when he allegedly attempted to slip a blackjack dealer a fake $100 bill to place a bet.

Detective Kurt Raymond, with the Bay St. Louis Police Department, said that Jimmy Ling Cang Liu, 18, 318 Faxon Ave., San Francisco, Calif., was arrested and placed in the Hancock County Justice Facility on charges of uttering forgery and possession of a counterfeit instrument, both are felonies. Bond has been set at $100,000, but Raymond does not expect his release soon. "The Secret Service has placed a hold on him, he will also have federal charges to face in this," Raymond said. After Liu allegedly passed the $100 bill to the dealer in Casino Magic, to place his bet, the dealer noticed something wrong.

Suspect in car theft leads local police on chase

BY SHARON K. SAUCIER
More people may need to lock their car doors after the episode Waveland police recently encountered.

Unknown suspects led Waveland police officers on a high-speed chase early Thursday morning, down Mississippi Hwy. 90 and into Pearlinton. The suspects were in a black 1994 Cadillac, licensed in Baton Rouge, which was stolen on Aug. 14.

"Officers attempted to stop the vehicle at 2:30 a.m. near Hwy. 90 and Old Spanish Trail. The vehicle started traveling west in the east bound lane of Hwy. 90 at a high rate of speed. Due to the danger that this imposed on motorists, officers pursued the suspect at a safe distance," Waveland Investigator Rickey Jacobs said.

The suspect then turned onto Lower Bay Road and fled into the woods on Holly Street.

"Officers tried to track the suspect and dogs were used, but the suspect could not be found," Jacobs said.

Later, another vehicle was

Fate of Hancock County Courthouse discussed

BY MARY G. SEILEY
The fate of Hancock County Courthouse was up for discussion Thursday when a special study panel recommended it be vacated and a new facility constructed.

And while they appeared to agree that the old structure is obsolete, members of the Board of Supervisors were dubious about how a new building would be financed -- and where in the county it should be located.

Members of the Hancock County Courthouse Committee, appointed months ago by the board, recommended a two-phase project to accommodate the county's needs to the year 2020.

First, the county would build some 40,000 square feet of courthouse space on Main Street, utilizing property now occupied by the Knights of Columbus and an adjoining lot, and a 4.3-acre tract on the opposite side of the street, known as the Ruth Cazeneuve tract.

As needs increase, and financing becomes available, officials could add a second story to the building, said committee chairman Paul Vegas, and move other county offices to the structure. The county then could sell some of its auxiliary buildings, and recover some project costs.

The plan, said Vegas, would be the least "painful" solution to a critical problem. Judges and attorneys are so strapped for space, he said, the court system is hardly able to function in the existing courthouse.

Projections from the Gulf Regional Planning Commission show the county's population will grow from 32,000 in 1994 to 80,000 by 2020 -- with 80 percent of the growth occurring north of Interstate 10.

Those projections have some people advocating construction of the new complex north of I-10, utilizing Highway 603 as the new "main street" of the county.

Vegas, however, said there are severe drawbacks to such a plan. State law requires that the county courthouse be located in the county seat -- which is Bay St. Louis -- and within one mile of the county jail.

Vegas said while the law might be amended to allow the courthouse further from the jail, it would be unprecedented to allow putting the courthouse outside the county seat.

In addition, he said, the Highway 603-Interstate 10 area would be inaccessible during a major hurricane, rendering the county courthouse useless as a disaster center.

Vegas said committee members considered, and discarded, several alternatives to the Main Street properties. One idea, buying St. Augustine Seminary property on Highway 90, would be too costly, he said, with a price of some $100,000 per acre.

Another potential site, the former Bay Tech property, isn't up for sale, Vegas said. Yet another possible site, 10 acres that the City of Bay St. Louis has under option near the depot, is unsuitable because of its configuration, access, and proximity to the noise of the railroad tracks.

Vegas said revamping the existing courthouse, and providing adequate parking there, is simply economically unfeasible.

The historic building, he said, could be used by the county Historical Society, and possibly by the L.W. Anderson Genealogical Library.

Vegas said the committee's plan would provide the county with the modern court facilities it currently lacks, at a cost of some $4 million, without abandoning downtown Bay St. Louis as a legal hub.

If the courthouse is moved from downtown, he said, lawyers would relocate as well, and local merchants would be hit by the exodus of business.

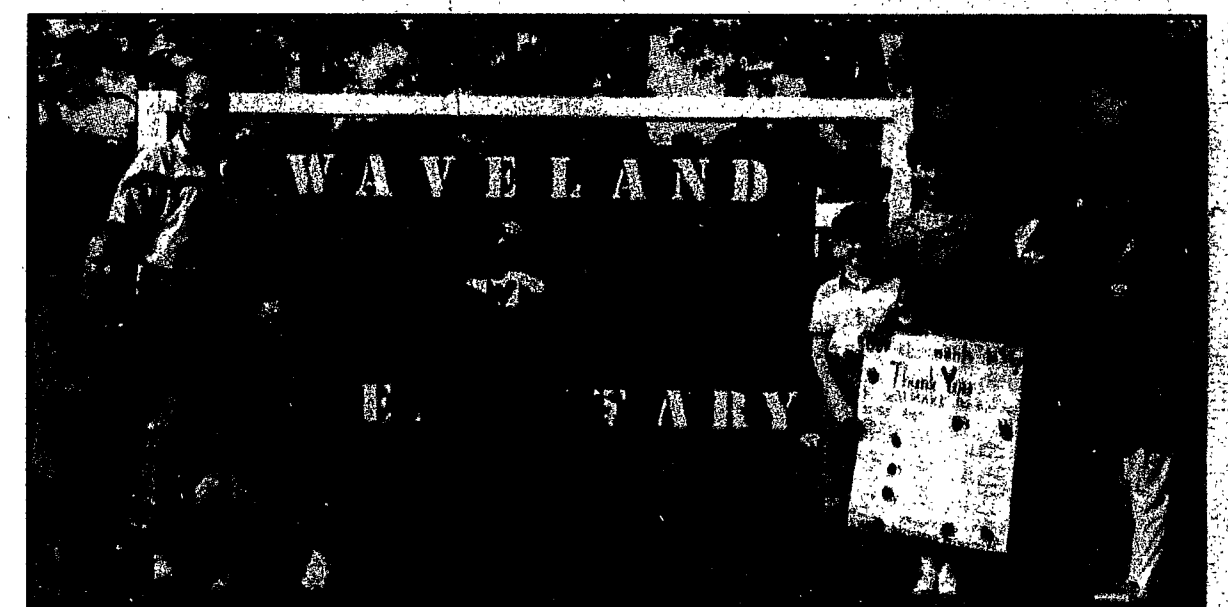

Members of the Board of Supervisors didn't challenge the idea that the courthouse is outmoded. They stressed, however, that public backing for the major project would be necessary before the board would proceed.

Supervisor Mike Ladner said repeatedly the issues should be put up for discussion at public hearings. And Supervisor Robert Peterson noted that voters in Jackson County had defeated a courthouse construction project, despite and intense push to have it approved.

"We must have a game plan before we even think about a hearing," said Chancery Clerk Mike Necaise.

Bay St. Louis Mayor Eddie Favre said Friday he agrees the county needs to do something about the courthouse's inadequacy -- but he's not convinced there's an immediate need to build a new facility.

Favre said existing buildings near the courthouse perhaps could be acquired, giving the county more space without building a new structure.

BY MARY G. SEILEY
Bay St. Louis city officials want to renovate the old City Hall, get the smell and discoloration out of the water system, and hire a full-time planner and full-time animal control officer.

In addition, the city's proposed budget would finance renovations to the Valena C. Jones complex, repair and expand the sewer system, provide raises for selected city employees and widen Green Meadow Road, from Blue Meadow Road to Drinkwater Boulevard.

Mayor Eddie Favre outlined the projects Thursday as he reviewed his proposed $10 million budget for 1995 with City Council members.

The budget, some $1.2 million less than this year's, requires no millage increase.

It provides for several new employees, including a fulltime planner/community development director to spearhead some key city projects -- such as revamping the city's zoning ordinance. Favre also said the planner would be involved in developing an historic preservation ordinance for the city.

Consultants, and members of the city's Planning and Zoning Commission, have been drafting a comprehensive plan for the city over the past several months. Its adoption is expected to be followed by a rewrite of much of the city's zon-

Poodle-permed
Good morning, all you crawfish-head-sucking Southerners. It's time to wake up to another day in the Land of Make-believe.
It all took place on a quiet, peaceful Monday night. Mary and I were sitting around the kitchen table planning our future recreational activities, just a typical evening around the home. I was telling stupid jokes, and Mary, like always, was laughing at every word.
Suddenly the conversation began revolving around hair. What took place next would change me forever.
Before I could say Jumping Jack flash, I was strapped down in a chair and was handing Mary different color curlers as if I were a surgical technician assisting in my own brain surgery.
That's right, Dudes and Dudettes, I've been PERMED!
I used to look a bit like my Dad, now I resemble the family pet — a poodle.
Hey, talk about a humiliating experience: There I am with a couple of hundred hair curlers pulling at my scalp, when the front door opens up, and in pops Mary's 24-year-old son, George, the construction worker.
I, of course, hollered, "Don't come in, I'm NAKED!" Wondering what I was doing in the kitchen naked he poked his head around the corner, and four days later he is still laughing hysterically.
For one hour I was subjected to a horrendous odor that was strangely familiar to me. Then I remembered where I had smelled that odor before.
It was the same smell I

...the county and city, are also aware of the light our community receives for having our streets and roadways covered with litter.

Starting back in March of this year, Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson gave several trustees an opportunity to do a community service by collecting litter along the county's roads.

The four or five trustees are supervised by Deputy John R. Wallace. The effects of the first few weeks were so noticed that the Hancock County Board of Supervisors made arrangements with the sheriff to do this on a regular basis.

To give you an idea of the magnitude of litter on our streets, from March 14 through Aug. 23, some 1,437 large bags of litter have been collected by the trustees.

Trustee man hours have been 1,855 1/2, and they have covered and re-covered approximately 1,200 miles of roads and highways within the county.

This is a lot of miles of roads and highways to collect litter.

We really appreciate the use of the trustees in helping collect the litter.

Our biggest problem to solve is a way to eliminate those careless persons who continue to throw trash along our roads and highways.

We can make a difference, and we are making a difference, thanks to each and every one of you for your help and support.

We apologize for being late with our paper last Sunday.

We had some press problems Saturday night and were late getting printed.

As some of you may know, for the past two weeks we have moved our press into a new addition and are also doubling its capacity.

This takes a lot of time and effort in getting rid of the 'bugs,' which we hope to have all out very soon.

By the way, those four telephone lines were all lit up Sunday morning, and I almost lost my voice trying to catch the hundreds of calls.

We are hoping not to have any more delays in the delivery of your Echo.

Thanks very much for your patience.

Animal report. Mid-Friday morning I received a telephone call from Nancy Gallagher at the Waveland Animal Shelter.

She gave me a report on the photo page in our Thursday edition, sponsored by local merchants.

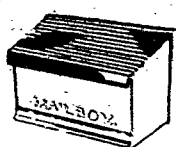

Four of the animals were already reclaimed by their owners, 11 were adopted, two calls were received on another animal, and a lady from Gulfport called, interested in adopting the 15-year-old cat.

This is great, and I want to express my appreciation to everyone who reclaimed or adopted one of the animals.

Our sponsors for the page are to be complimented, too.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Parents complain about school starting times

Dear Editor,

This letter is in reference to an article written three weeks ago about four parents complaining at the school board meeting about the double bus schedule.

I was one of the parents there, and the issue was not the double bus routes. The issue is our younger children's safety due to the time change.

Parents are no longer able to bring them to school on their way to work.

The normal work hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and by 7:30 a.m. most working people are going to work.

Because of the 8:30-3:30 change, we cannot bring children to school and get to work on time.

Some parents are having to get morning babysitters as well as afternoon sitting, which is not easy because then the children still have to get to school after parents are already at work.

We asked the school board to reconsider making the early schedule for the younger children and have the older ones (who can take care of themselves and drive) have the later schedule or even to make the schedule now just a little earlier for both.

Our concern is leaving children at school too early without enough teachers there or leaving them on the street at a bus stop.

If we are already at work, it could be all day before we would know that something has happened to a child and never made it to school.

The school board says they will be open to reconsider if this is a problem for more parents. Four is not enough to make a change.

If anyone else would like to be heard and support us in this matter, please call 466-2632, and we will inform you of the next meeting.

Troopers gearing up for Labor Day weekend

Labor Day is the last major holiday of the summer, and heavy traffic is anticipated near recreational areas. The Sky Parade in Jackson and the casino gaming boats on the Gulf Coast and along the Mississippi River also are expected to draw large crowds during the 78-hour holiday period.

"Because we envision congestion on specific highways, state troopers will be paying close attention to speeding and reckless driver," said Col. Jay Clark, director of the Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol.

"We also will be on the watch for drivers under the influence of drugs and alcohol (DUI) and for those who may be too exhausted to continue driving."

During the 1993 Labor Day weekend, there were 11 motor vehicle crashes that resulted in the deaths of 14 people on Mississippi roads and highways. Eight of the deaths took place on highways under patrol jurisdiction. Six occurred on county roads. The holiday begins at 6 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 2 and ends at midnight on Monday, Sept. 5.

"Our goal is to reduce the number of fatalities on Mississippi's highways," Clark said. "Traffic law violators will be ticketed and drivers under the influence will be arrested."

"I urge travelers to be responsible and sensible," he added. "Staying alive during this holiday weekend can be as simple as buckling a seat belt. If you are drinking alcoholic beverages, please designate a driver who will remain sober."

"If you are tired, stop and rest or ask someone else to drive. Driving sleepy can have the same negative effect as driving drunk."

The patrol will have 75 troopers working 600 hours of overtime in addition to the regularly scheduled officers.

"We will be using both traditional and nontraditional methods of enforcement to deter speeders and other traffic violators," Clark said.

Troopers will be using motorcycles and aircraft along with regular enforcement vehicles. Air surveillance is used to alert nearby ground enforcement units of speeders and stranded motorists. Roadblocks are planned to check for expired drivers licenses, inspection stickers, tags and for motorists who may be driving under the influence of drugs or alcohol.

Vehicles equipped with video cameras will be in use, too. "The cameras are especially helpful when stopping motorists suspected of driving under the influence of drugs or alcohol," Col. Clark said.

"When a suspect sees the video camera he is less likely to contest the charges."

Extremists, woodpeckers or people

Extremists in Washington are overriding any semblance of a rational, reasoned, balanced solution to our nation's environmental problems to such an extent that regulation has gotten completely out of control.

Pitted against the environmentalists' tools of the Endangered Species Act and the revision of the Clean Water Act, no private or public property today can escape economically devastating regulations and statutes to protect spotted owls, snail darters or swamps.

Admittedly, some protected species, like the spotted owl, are holdovers from past Administrations. But the devastating impact of too many others, like the Alabama sturgeon and the red cockaded woodpecker, has come home to roost in Mississippi this year.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service wants to add the Alabama sturgeon to its list of endangered species, and a decision could come by year's end.

In proposing the listing, the Fish and Wildlife Service has ignored scientific evidence which argues that the Alabama sturgeon is not a unique species. Instead, the agency is planning to halt the dredging of south Alabama waterways to protect the sturgeon's critical habitat.

If the Fish and Wildlife Service has its way and dredging is stopped on those waterways, they will quickly become impassable to river traffic. And, if the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway is shut down, Mississippi will lose hundreds of jobs and suffer millions of dollars in economic losses.

The red cockaded woodpecker is another example of the environmentalists' absolutist position in action. To fence off the habitat of the red cockaded woodpecker, the U.S. Forestry Service is proposing that hundreds of thousands of acres of Mississippi forest land be set aside. Again, the result will be the loss of jobs, timber sales and revenues returned to Mississippi counties in lieu of taxes collected.

In the Chickasawhay area of the DeSoto National Forest alone, the Forest Service plans to designate over 100,000 acres as the protected habitat of as few as "three" red cockaded woodpeckers. Tell me that makes good sense.

The real crime here is that scientists have determined that the woodpecker's habitat is flexible enough to thrive within Mississippi's forest management and harvest programs.

Further south, the Gulf of Mexico has not escaped this Administration's regulatory tramping. While the threat differs in objective from regulations stemming from the Endangered Species Act, it is similar in its ridiculousness and its contradiction of scientific evidence.

The Food and Drug Administration has proposed closing the Gulf of Mexico to oystering from April to October as a result of the possible existence of a bacteria which might contaminate oysters.

The FDA says the bacteria can in certain situations cause illnesses in people with health problems such as weakened immune systems, liver disease, or diabetes. Mississippi officials tell me that they have recorded one indirect death related to the bacteria.

Rather than FDA's shotgun approach, we need to educate those few people who can be affected by a bacteria which may or may not be present, and not sink the entire Gulf oyster industry. Certainly a much less destructive policy can be developed which will protect all parties involved.

It is time to pull the plug on blunt regulations that trample the rights, the livelihood and the quality of life of individuals.

THE PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

A Weekly Editorial
From Mississippi Economic Council

Mississippians' basic freedoms are at risk

The National Right to Work Committee reports a troublesome threat to Mississippians' sovereign freedom of choice. Newly appointed administrators to the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) are taking aim at several states' Right to Work laws, including Mississippi's.

These laws are an important element of the basic principles of freedom and liberty upon which America was founded.

Right to Work laws are state laws which give workers the right to hold a job and earn wages without being forced to join unions and pay union dues. For nearly 50 years, federal law has banned the enforcement of any contract that compels workers to pay union dues in states like Mississippi which have adopted Right to Work laws.

In the past when these laws were abridged by unions, workers could call on the NLRB to intervene and restore their right to work outside the union.

But now, newly appointed NLRB officials are ignoring years of federal precedent by dismissing complaints by workers concerning unions that attempt to strong-arm them into paying union dues. Their choices are to join unions and pay expensive dues, lose their jobs, or spend thousands of dollars fighting for their sovereign right to work without the help of the NLRB.

The pros and cons of labor unions are not at issue here.

The issue is that Mississippi workers must be allowed to retain the right to make those decisions for themselves. The right to work should not be dependent upon union membership.

Individuals should be free to join, or not to join, labor unions.

Bay High's first football game of the season was a victory over Picayune on Friday night. The game was the fall season's opener and Bay High's first under its new head coach, Walt Esslinger. The Tigers made believe out of Picayune, winning the game 9-7.

The game opened with Picayune winning the toss. They elected to defer to the second half.

Picayune's kickoff was received by Xavier Lewis, who returned the ball to the 25-yard line. Two running plays netted only 1 yard. On the third down, Bay High's pass was incomplete. Raleigh Murphy punted to the Picayune 39-yard line.

On Picayune's first play, they fumbled. Bay High recovered on Picayune's 41-yard line.

Bay High was able to move the ball to the Picayune 19-yard line, where they fumbled. Picayune recovered.

The Maroon Tide was able to move the ball to its own 36-yard line, where they punted. The Tigers took over on their own 49-yard line.

Picayune intercepted a pass thrown by Xavier Lewis and returned the ball to Bay High's 42-yard line.

Picayune was unable to move the ball as the first quarter ended.

The second quarter was almost a replay of the first, with penalties and turnovers. Neither team was able to generate any consistent offense.

Bay High kicked off to Picayune at the start of the second fourth quarter. Raleigh Murphy of Bay High kicked a 30-yard field goal that put the team in front 3-0.

Picayune was able to mount a drive that culminated in Carlos Bogan scoring Picayune's first touchdown. The extra point was good and Picayune led 7-3 with 2:05 left in the game.

Several of the Bay High players came off the field, dejected, with their heads hung low. Esslinger, full of emotion, shouted until there was 9:42 left in the game for them to get their heads back up — the game wasn't over yet! He let them know if they had the attitude of giving up, they would be sent to the bus. The coach's scolding words proved to be a most valuable reprimand to the young team, who pepped up after the lesson in sportsmanship.

On the ensuing kickoff, Bay High's Xavier Lewis took the ball on the Tigers' 3-yard line and ran up the middle of the field to the 35-yard line, where he tested Picayune's defensive line. Walt Esslinger's Tigers gave him his first victory as their head coach. (Echo staff photo by Charlee Marshall) their own fumble and held on for four more plays to put 6 on the board.

Helped out by an unsportsmanlike conduct penalty on the Pirates, the Aggies moved from the 25 to the 13-yard line. Aggie Damian Husband took the ball in for the score. With 2:52 left in the quarter, the score was 7-6. The PAT kick, attempted twice because of an illegal procedure foul against FCAHS the first time, was no good.

The ensuing Aggie kick hit the ground at the Pass 24, and Pirate Willie James recovered the ball. The Pirates moved the ball only 3 yards in three plays, however, and were forced to punt.

The Aggie possession was short, though. Pirate Darrell Dedeaux intercepted a pass and took the Aggie 30 just as the quarter ended.

On the second half, the Aggies retained possession less than two minutes into the second quarter when Darrell Biggs intercepted a Pirate pass and took the ball up the right to the Aggie 47. Forrest held onto the ball for six more plays and a gain of 31 yards, then fumbled in the backfield on the seventh play. Pass Christian recovered at their own 17.

It was another short-lived Pirate possession. The ball changed hands again four plays later on a punt, which Aggie Nick Ishee took at the 41 on a fair catch.

Again it was a fumble, recovered by Pass player Henry Henderson a few plays later, that gave possession back to the Pirates. The visiting PCHS squad advanced to midfield before the home team could stop the drive, but the Aggies' defense held and forced the Pirates to a fourth and five.

The Pirates decided to fake a punt and go for the yardage

From there, Biggs ran for 5 more to the 38, then for another yard. On the next play, Rickey Lewis ran up the right to the 23. James completed the drive with a pass reception for a score. A Pirate two-point conversion attempt failed; the score was 20-15 with 4:27 remaining.

Aggie Chip Martin took the ensuing onside kick at the Aggie 49, then Husband went up the middle for a 3-yard gain. Quarterback Elvin Jackson moved the ball to the Pirate 35, and Husband gained 4 more on the next play. The Aggies then lost 2, but gained 18 to end up at the Pirate 19-yard line.

However, on the next play, Pirate Brian Wilson stole the ball and ran it 70 yards back down the sideline into Aggie territory. Pass QB Kevin Clark found James on the next play for a 15-yard TD pass reception. The PAT kick succeeded, and they were good for 27-15 with 2:07 left to play.

The Aggies tried to close the gap on the scoreboard, but the Pirate defense held firm, and the horn sounded on a Pirate season opener victory.

Brown said, "The guys did a great job out there tonight, and they needed this win going into next week's game with Vanceleave. Forrest County is a 3-A team, so winning against them is a real confidence-builder for us. Now we just need to get in there next week and practice hard, work at correcting our errors."

"The only real problem we had as far as injuries go was that some of our players kept getting leg cramps."

Next week's game versus Vanceleave kicks off at 7:30 p.m. in Pirate stadium.

break streak

BY JOSEPH W. GEX III
As the sun went down in Gulfport, a cool breeze swept over Milnes Stadium. The athletes were excited as they warmed up for the upcoming battle. The St. John Eagles ran crisp passing routes, while the St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws looked like a finely tuned machine as Coach Jay Ladner took them through their pregame stretches.

As kickoff neared and the Rocks won the toss, they opted to take the ball first. This was the first step toward ending an ugly streak and beginning a new era. The Rocks defeated the high-flying Eagles of St. John 29-14 to end a 0-25 streak that spanned more than two years.

On the first Rock offensive series, SSC was set back by a few penalties. Senior Rock signal caller Nate Middleton admonished the penalties by connecting with Brooks Quinlan for a 24-yard gain. Three plays later Middleton unleashed a 70-yard TD strike to Brandon Benoit for the Rocks' first score of the 1994 season. The score came with 8:58 to go in the first quarter. Billy Dorgan's PAT attempt was good, making the score 7-0.

The Rocks lined up for the kickoff and Dorgan booted one to the deep man. Senior Jim Friedman laid a lick on the Eagle returner, causing him to fumble, and the Rocks recovered in Eagle territory.

Jeep Mestayer scampered for a gain of 11 yards on the Rocks' first play. Two plays later Quinlan scored; however, the TD was taken away due to a penalty. Middleton connected with junior tight end David Bell for an 8-yard gain. Dorgan's field goal attempt sailed wide left and the score remained 7-0.

The St. John Eagles took over deep in their own territory. Chad Rhodes ran the ball for the Eagles and Dorgan dominated the defensive side of the ball for the Rocks. The Eagles went three plays and punted to the Rocks.

Middleton scrambled for a gain of 40 yards to open the series. On the next play the Rocks lost the ball on a fumble.

The Eagles took over in Rock territory but could not convert as junior defensive tackle Jason Kirschenheuter recovered an Eagle stripped ball.

Junior QB Correy Gex came in to lead the Rock drive. Gex kept the ball on an option for a 14-yard gain. Benoit scooted for another 12 yards on a counter play. Two plays later Rock field general Gex found Quinlan for a 22-yard score at the 9:52 mark of the second quarter. On the PAT attempt, Middleton kept the ball for a two-point conversion. The score was now 15-0 in favor of the Rocks.

The Rocks' defense thwarted all efforts by the Eagles to move the ball. Corey Charles led a strong defensive stand for the Rocks by making two tackles behind the line of scrimmage.

The Rock offense got the ball back with 2:16 left in the half. Middleton kept the ball for an 18-yard gain. Benoit scampered for another 9 yards. One play later the Rocks fumbled, giving St. John a chance before halftime.

The Eagles took over and scored with 14 seconds left in the half. Fullback James Kai-gler scored on a 4-yard TD run. The PAT attempt was good. The score going into halftime was 15-7 in favor of the Rocks.

SSC seemed to gain intensity during the second half. The Rocks came out with a vision of scoring more points, and they did.

The Rocks held the Eagles at bay with a tenacious defense. The defensive charge was led by junior Jon Renaudin and sophomore Charles. The linebackers played a tag-team on the Eagle runners.

On the Rocks' first possession of the second half, Benoit turned the corner for a 20-yard gain. Middleton hit Benoit for 9 more yards. The Eagle defense stymied the Rock offense. SSC settled for a field goal attempt. Dorgan's attempt at 37 yards was blocked.

Charles and Renaudin made the big plays, again forcing the Eagles into a punting situation. David Manasco returned the Eagle punt 47 yards and set up the Rocks' next score.

Benoit had gains of 6 and 4 yards before Quinlan saw the end zone for the second time with a 2-yard run. Quinlan scored with 27 seconds remaining in the third quarter. Dorgan's PAT attempt was good, making the score 22-7.

On the ensuing kickoff, Dorgan booted the ball out the end zone, bringing the ball out to the 20-yard line for the Eagles.

Another strong defensive stand by the Rock linebacking corps enabled the Rocks to start with good field position.

On the fourth play of the drive, Middleton found Quinlan for a third touchdown on a 38-yard TD pass.

The PAT attempt by Dorgan was good, making the score 29-7 with 7:38 to go in the game.

The Eagles took less than three minutes to put up their second and final score of the night. The Rock defensive backs got caught close as Tim Bolton connected with Timmy Enroth for a 31-yard TD with 4:41 to play. The Eagle PAT was good, making the score 29-14.

Gex came in to lead the Rocks' final offensive drive. Benoit had gains of 9, 5, and 17 yards before Gex broke one.

Rock signal caller Gex kept on an option and scampered 43 yards to the Eagle 9-yard line. Gex knelt the ball and ran the clock out as the Rocks closed the book on a dark 2 1/2 years of football. The streak has ended.

The Rocks rolled up 433 yards of total offense to the Eagles 155 yards. Benoit led all rushers with 84 yards and gained 96 yards through the air. Middleton rushed for 70 yards and passed for 128 yards with two TD passes. Gex rushed for 67 yards and passed for 46 yards with one TD pass. Quinlan scored three times and rushed for 38 yards.

The win marked a successful debut for new head coach Brannon LeBlanc. He commented, "The boys gave a tremendous effort here tonight. They have been working for this win since August 1. Our skill players came through for us. Brandon Benoit, Brooks Quinlan, and Nate Middleton came to play tonight. (Billy) Dorgan's kicks kept the Eagles pinned deep in their own territory."

The Rocks will host Oak Grove of Hattiesburg next Friday in the friendly confines of Rock stadium. Kickoff is slated for 7:30 p.m. See you at the game.

Cleaning up

Working to restore neighborhood pride

BY CHARLEE MARSHALL

Nobody likes cleaning up someone else's mess — especially on their day off from work. But Charles Johnson did just that last Friday. He and a group of concerned citizens, including Juanita Thompson, Sam Nicolls, Raymond Collins and Geraldine Lang pitched in to rake up debris and to fish empty liquor bottles, beer cans, paper cups and other refuse out of the ditches bordering a vacant lot on St. Francis and Bookter.

Johnson lives in the neighborhood. He keeps his yard in ship shape and wishes everyone else would. He is so committed to keeping his surroundings and the city of Bay St. Louis clean and attractive that he joined with others in the cause of beautification and signed up to be on a committee. He adopted the area of St. Francis and Sycamore as his responsibility and he takes his job seriously.

The lot in question has been the site of late night and weekend partying and the scene of general loitering. City police have not been able to keep out the undesirables who use and abuse the lot. But now, the owner has posted a no trespassing sign and those caught on the premises will stand a chance of being arrested.

The group doing the cleanup chores hope to make an example for others in the neighborhood and revive a sense of community pride. With a little elbow grease, some rakes and a few sacks for trash, yards can become showplaces.

The cleanup effort in neighborhoods will expand to an even bigger project when the coastal cleanup gets underway Sept. 17. Volunteers from all over will be assembling to participate in a massive cleanup effort.

People who are concerned about the growing problem of marine debris will be gathering Saturday, Sept. 17 for the Mississippi Coastal Cleanup. The effort is part of an even larger scale beach cleanup program around the world.

WEDDINGS, ENGAGEMENTS

Foreman-Blanchette

Ellen DeShea Blanchette, of Bay St. Louis, became the bride of Sean Paul Foreman, of Alexandria, La., in a 7 p.m. ceremony on May 14 at First Baptist Church in Bay St. Louis.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jon Blanchette and he is the son of Mr. Ronald Foreman of San Jose, Calif. and Mrs. Jeanette Cossey of Bay St. Louis.

Dr. Nathan L. Barber officiated at the ceremony.

Soloist was Mrs. Sharron Wilcox. Mrs. Gail Carr was organist and pianist.

The altar of the church was adorned with long white tapers in brass candelabras arranged with white calla lilies, Boston ferns, white roses, Queen Anne's lace, springerli fern and organza ribbons.

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, chose for her wedding a gown of Italian satin with a sweetheart neckline. The gown featured a dropped V-waistline. The short sleeves and entire bodice was Schiffler lace over satin with beading of pearls and sequins. The chapel-length train was embellished with lace, sequins and pearls.

Her headpiece was a garland of Italian satin roses interspersed with sequins and pearls attached to the long veil in the back. She carried a fragrant cascade of fresh white roses, Queen Anne's lace, stephanotis, ming fern and Italian ruscus.

Maid of honor was Amy Simpson. Matron of honor was Dena Denham. Katrina Grant, Liz Drummond, and Desiree Ladner were bridesmaids.

The attendants wore forest-green floor-length sheath suits accented with rhinestone buttons. They carried arm bouquets of white calla lilies, Queen Anne's lace and Italian ruscus with streamers of white organza ribbon.

Flower girl was Ann Rainy Haltom, cousin of the bride. She was dressed in a white tea-length dress of imported cotton designed by the bride's aunt. Her head was adorned with a circlet of bridal flowers and ribbon, and she carried a white wicker basket of potpourri.

For her daughter's wedding the bride's mother chose an ivory silk shantung tea-length suit with ivory Alencon lace embroidered with pearls and sequins.

The groom's mother wore a tea-length royal-blue dress of silk organza with accents of gold beading and sequins.

Travis Foreman served as best man. Ushers were Geja Carter, Mark Carter and Michael Carlisle.

The reception, given by the parents of the bridal couple, was held at the Diamondhead Community Center. The great room of the center was elegantly decorated with magnolia blossoms and leaves with white candles beaming from hurricane lanterns. The dance floor was accented with greenery, clear twinkle lights, tulle and moire ribbons.

The bride's table was adorned with the wedding cake, made of three graduated tiers with white columns and garnished with fresh gardenias, white roses and ming fern.

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire
Caire

Have you joined the many flounders, or flounderfishers, along our beachfront these sultry late summer evenings, light or lantern in hand, with some sort of pole or spear, as they search out the flounders in the shallows along the shore?

It isn't only the fun of it, it's the tasty rewards — founders for a meal fresh from the waters. The other evening, I noticed several fires of optimistic fishermen who obviously planned to be ready to cook their prize catches right there and then on the beach.

It was the Indian tribes already at home on the Gulf Coast who taught the early settlers the art of floundering, or flounder-fishing, as they waded in the shallows armed with spears or arrows. This is still a great sport these days, as well as a boost to the food budget.

The flounder may not be a thing of beauty, but its sweet and firm white meat makes for ever-so-good eating. It's easy to cook, easy to stuff and bake, easy to enjoy. Broiled, baked, fried or grilled, flounders are a treat.

Just be sure to remember the cardinal rule of fish cookery: DON'T overcook the fish and thus ruin both texture and flavor.

Another rule of fish cookery: the less you do to fresh fish, the better; save those fancy sauces for other times. One of the ways in which I enjoy fresh flounder best is simply broiled briefly, just until it flakes to the time of a fork, then doused with melted butter and chopped fresh parsley, along with lemon slices or juice, with a splash of good white wine for good measure and taste. For a time-honored Gulf Coast treat, as popular in our restaurants as in our homes, try:

STUFFED FLOUNDER

4 medium-sized flounders
1 stick butter, or less as needed

Pepper, cayenne, salt to your taste

1 cup fresh crabmeat
1 cup-fresh shrimp, cooked and chopped

1/2 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup chopped green

Flounders are a treat

onions, with tops
1 clove garlic, minced
2 Tblsp. chopped parsley
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 1/2 cups bread crumbs or cubes, approximately, as needed

Saute the onion, celery and garlic in half the butter over a low fire. Add the breadcrumbs, crabmeat, shrimp, parsley and egg, mixing well. Season to your liking and set aside.

Slit pockets in the flounder: split the thick or dark side of the fish lengthwise from head to tail. Then crosswise across the middle, loosening the meat from the bone so as to form a "pocket" for stuffing. Brush the inside of the pocket and the fish itself with a little melted butter and lemon juice, then stuff the pocket.

If you're broiling the flounder, place the stuffed fish in a pan with just enough water to cover the bottom of the pan. Broil 3 or 4 inches from the heat, until the flounder flakes easily, basting often with the liquids which accumulate in the pan.

If you're baking the fish, melt the remaining butter in a shallow baking pan, arrange the founders in it, not overlapping, cover and bake at 350 degrees for 25 minutes until it flakes to the fork, uncovering the pan for the last 5 minutes or so.

If the budget doesn't run to crabmeat or shrimp at the moment, just improvise, "make do."

Grind or chop up a small amount of shrimp and mix into the bread, etc., and the shrimp flavor is there. A chopped cucumber-and-bread stuffing is quite good also.

The other day I had just a bit of boiled crawfish. I peeled and chopped the tails and made a tasty stuffing.

Save time & money with Coast Windshield Repair

Are you tired of staring through a cracked or "dinged-up" windshield because you fear the cost of having it replaced? Well, fear no more! Call Joe Kersanac, better known as the windshield doctor, at Coast Windshield Repair.

Established in 1988, Kersanac has performed over 5,000 repairs on the Gulf Coast with his mobile service.

With the mobile service, there is absolutely no inconvenience to the customer. You need not be late for work or have to arrange for a ride while waiting for your windshield to be repaired. Kersanac will come to your home or your office and make the repairs on the spot.

The prompt, quality service is available seven days a week. Services offered include the repair of any windshield damage, including dings or cracks up to 24 inches in size. Coast Windshield Repair can also help in the removal of scratches in windshields.

Kersanac said in most cases, your insurance company will pay for windshield repairs, so there is no out of pocket expense, and there is no charge if you are not completely satisfied with the repairs. All work comes with a written guarantee that the cracks will not spread or discolor.

Don't stare at that crack or ding any longer. Call Joe Kersanac at 467-5136 or 1-800-748-8540 for a free estimate.
